

EAP Virtual Writing Retreat

Organizers: Neil Thompson, Richard Tunstall, Karen Verduijn

Dates: August 27, September 24 and October 29 (2021)

Time: 16-19 CET

Intro:

If you can use some extra impetus and/or support in getting one of your Entrepreneurship-as-Practice related papers to a next level, then this Virtual Writing Retreat can be something for you. Each of the in total three meetings has 1) a plenary part, in which we discuss general challenges, share best practices, interesting sources, discuss EAP developments etc., and 2) a 'reading circle' part.

So, the idea is that you formulate your own particular goal for the Writing Retreat (e.g., to have a conference paper, a first round journal submission, or an R&R done), and work on your paper between the (3) sessions. Based on the submitted abstracts, we will create smaller reading circles. Participants in the reading circles read each other's work before the meetings, and provide comments during the meetings. In that way, you can expect up to three rounds of feedback.

If for whatever reason you do not have enough time to work on the paper between meetings, you can prepare a ppt, an outline, or something similar to share and discuss with your reading circle.

Deadlines:

We invite you to submit an extended abstract, along with a statement about your personal goal(s) for the Writing Retreat, by July 26, 2021 (email: eapvwr@gmail.com)

We will let you know in early August if we see sufficient fit with the (EAP) theme.
